LABELS

I have files of the labels that I use on this web site. I use blue paper for the 44WCF labels, and tan paper for the shotshell boxes. It is better to print these with a laser printer as the ink is less likely to smudge if it gets wet. I use spray adhesive to glue these to the boxes and then clear coat them to help preserve them. I have printed address labels for the end flaps with the load information. If you are interested in custom made boxes or special labels please contact me.
